The "sound money" committee of the New York Chamber of Commerce has made a poll of the next House of Representatives on the money question. The list records 88 members for free silver, 216 opposed to free silver, and 52 whose views are not known. Of the 88 put down for free silver, 30 are Republicans, 51 Democrats and 7 Populists.

Snow in Summer.

A heated term, attended by many deaths, in Chicago and other cities, was suddenly followed by a cold wave on September 22. There was a drop of from 20 to 40 degrees within an hour. In Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado there were heavy falls of snow. Two sons of Frank Nevins, at Rawlins, Wyoming, were sent into a gulch a mile from home to drive in the cattle. Twenty horsemen were sent in search of them without success, and it is believed they perished in the snow, which was two feet deep.

Scored the Preachers.

A resolution was introduced in the Methodist conference at Canton, O., censuring the Populists for engaging ex-Governor Waite of Colorado to deliver a political speech at that place. Waite appeared but postponed his political speech till next day. Instead he delivered a mock sermon, in which he condemned the money power and criticized the ministers. "Christ drove the money changers out of the synagogue," he said. "Did any of you ever hear of a Methodist preacher driving the money sharks out of his fold?" He declared that the money power hung about the neck of the church as a millstone.

The Fight Doubtful.

It is doubtful if the fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons will come off, without regard to the action of the Governor of Texas. Brady, manager for Corbett, has said he "wouldn't see Jim go down" if he had to start a riot. Fitzsimmons is reported to have said he would not fight unless he was either paid $20,000 or assured that the kinetoscope company would not be allowed to photograph the contest.

Wealth for an Old Woman.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dale of Mountain View, near San Jose, will soon come into the possession of a seventh interest in an estate worth $56,000,000. She is 86 years of age and the estate consists of 24 acres in the heart of the city of Philadelphia, a ninety-nine years' lease of which will expire in November of this year. When the land was leased it was outside of the city.

Horse Starting Machine.

President A. B. Spreckels of the Pacific Jockey Club has announced that the races at Ingleside will be started by the Australian starting machine. Two bands of strong webbing are placed for the horses to line up to. When they are lined up a trigger is pulled, and the bands move upward and away from the horses at an angle of 45 degrees. This lets the horses off in a line. Another novelty to be introduced is timing races by electricity. An automatic indicator is placed above the timer's stand and displays the time made to every quarter directly the horses pass the pole.

RESCUE OF PEARY.

Brought from the Land of Ice.

Lieutenant Peary and party have reached St. John's, Newfoundland, in the relief steamer Kite from the Arctic. Peary spent two winters in Bowdoin's bay, and is fairly satisfied with the results there obtained. His actual purpose was to complete the survey of North Greenland, and he believes that within the next ten years, stimulated by the progress of other countries, American men and American enterprise will yet accomplish this.

He claims to have proved beyond a doubt the feasibility of the summer route to Independence bay, and says a large expedition, amply equipped, could establish a provision depot there one summer and make it the base of operations for a northward march the second year, and would approach much nearer the Pole than any other explorers could hope to get.

Besides much valuable meteorological information and a large ethnological collection, Peary has secured two meteorites from Cape York, which he considers are unequalled in the world. The larger one has been used by the Esquimaux for many years as material from which to make knives, so pure is the metal, thus proving it to be the one referred to by John Ross fifty years ago.

Lieut. Peary is, however, bitterly disappointed at his failure to proceed farther north than he had. This he attributes to the loss of his food supplies, the cache in land ice. He and his companions, Lee and Henson, endured great privations and were often in great peril of their lives. Peary describes the ice cap as a great inland sea. It covered Greenland with a mass of ice in some places a mile and a half deep. No landmarks exist. One has to navigate his course by the sextant and compass, as if upon the Atlantic. Peary does not contemplate any more expeditions to the north. He says he is too old a man, and he feels his present misfortune keenly.

THE CUBAN WAR.

A Chicago Preacher takes a Hand.

The Union Constitutional, a Conservative paper of Havana, berates other leading newspapers for not advocating a policy of greater severity toward the insurgents instead of advocating liberal reforms in the Spanish method of administration.

On September 19 the Spaniards dislodged the insurgents from a strong position near Guantanamo. Insurgents in Santa Clara province say the object of destroying villages and settlements is to prevent the troops from obtaining shelter.

Reinforcements of 5650 infantry and 600 cavalry for the Spanish troops have recently been landed at different points.

The Spanish fireman on the American steamer Mascotte dropped a sack of rifle cartridges into a boat. The act was traced to him by a party who searched the steamer with the captain's consent, and the fireman was sentenced by court-martial to penal servitude for life for supplying ammunition to the insurgents.

The Spanish cruiser Barcote-gul was sunk in the harbor of Havana and 46 lives were lost, Admiral Perejo being one of the victims. Spanish accounts gave a collision as the cause, but letters received in Philadelphia says the ship was sunk by a torpedo.

Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas caused a sensation from his pulpit in Chicago by declaring that the time had come for America to say that the oppression of Cuba by Spain must come to an end. There was a large attendance of the best people in the city, and the speaker was frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause. Dr. Thomas said Spain had forfeited the right to be a dictator, much less a ruler, among the nations of the earth.

John Repko, for fifteen years proprietor of the Roma Grand Continental Hotel, Havana, who with his family was ejected forcibly at midnight, has arrived in Florida. He will claim $40,000 damages through the United States Government, being a naturalized American citizen.

Arrangements have been made in New York for having a monster petition got up to have the United States recognize the Cuban insurgents as belligerents. Besides it is contemplated to hold public meetings throughout the country to unify and call out the sentiment in favor of Cuba.

Disturbances between Cubans and Spaniards have been caused in the City of Mexico by Cubans making demonstrations about town.

In the United States District Court at Wilmington, Delaware, the jury rendered a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of the twenty-one Cubans charged with violation of the neutrality laws. The verdict was received with tumultuous applause.

News has been received in New York of a battle in which the Spanish troops were defeated with a loss of 300.

It is said the insurgents will have a navy before the end of the year.

EUROPE.

Yacht Challenges.

Mr. Rose, a wealthy Londoner, has challenged the New York Athletic Club for a race for the America's cup. His yacht will be designed by Soper and built at Southampton.

The secretary of the Royal Yacht Squadron writes to the banking firm of Laycock, Good-fellow & Bell that he has cabled their offer of £1000 for a race between the Defender and Valkyrie III. in other than American waters to the New York Yacht Club, but that he fears that it is too late in the season to arrange the match.

The same firm sends to the Sportsman a check for £25 as a prize for the best design for a gold cup to be given by them for a contest in 1895 in America, England or Australia between yachts which do not exceed ninety tons.

Frightened the Queen.

While the King and Queen of Italy were returning from the inauguration of the monument to Cavour, an officer of Sicilian infantry tried to mount the steps of the royal carriage, at the same time addressing some words to the Queen and frightening her. It was thought that he was appealing for amnesty for the four leaders of the Sicilian riots whom the King, while liberating all of the political offenders, has refused to pardon. The officer was arrested and taken to the barracks. Afterwards it was learned that he had besought the Queen to prohibit scientific experiments on living animals. He has been suffering from epilepsy and his mind is said to be slightly affected.

To Restore a Papal Seat.

The Town Council of Avignon has agreed to spend $800,000 upon the restoration of the Pope's palace. One of the notable personages of Avignon says that the next Pope will be elected at Avignon and will live there. Avignon was sold in 1348 to Pope Clement VI. From that time Avignon continued to be occupied by the Popes for more than four centuries, and seven Popes reigned there.

Too Much Money.

There is a glut in the London money market. It is hoped the withdrawal of millions from Europe for the Chinese loan will relieve the distress.

Emperor William has had a telephone car made to follow him when he is absent from Berlin, whereby he is enabled to speak from any point of the chase with the foresters and gamekeepers, and can also keep up a close communication with his ministers and the other state authorities in Berlin and elsewhere.

New and important evidence in the Maybrick case is to be submitted to the British Home Secretary.

The Pope will write to the Czar, protesting against the treatment of Catholics in Russia.

Yellow fever and smallpox are both prevalent at Pernambuco.

CHOLERA.

Cholera is increasing in Constantinople, and in the vicinity of Broussa, fifty-seven miles south of there, it is raging violently.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

The Wall-Nichols Company Will Occupy the Republic Building.

On December 1st next the Wall-Nichols Company, composed of local capitalists, will open up business in the Republic building on King street with a large stock of books, stationery and musical instruments of all kinds. F. E. Nichols, late of the Hawaiian News Company, will be the manager of the new firm. Mr. Nichols leaves on the Australia tomorrow for Chicago and New York to purchase the stock, which will be obtained direct from the manufacturers. The new firm will offer superior inducements to the Honolulu public in the shape of Christmas goods and stationery and guarantee to give satisfaction both with stock and prices.

CHOLERA FROM TORTOISES.

Fifty Cases in Japan from Eating the Flesh of the Tortoise.

A dispatch from Japan by the Gaelic to San Francisco says:

More than fifty inhabitants of Kamezaki-mura, Chita district, Aichi prefecture, were suddenly affected by cholera on the 30th ult. Surprised at this wholesale spread of the malady, the authorities tried to find out the cause. It turned out that a man of the town recently brought two large tortoises known as Shogakubo and sold their flesh to the local people. Almost everyone who partook of this meat was taken ill and developed symptoms of the much-dreaded disease.

Mrs. Langtry is suing for a divorce at last, the proceedings being in the Superior Court of Lake county, California, where she and Freddie Gebhardt own adjoining ranches.
